

Ayomide Alabi, PharmD, PGY1: Managed Care

Hometown: Columbus, Ohio

Pharmacy school: The Ohio State University

Clinical interests: Ambulatory Care, Medication Adherence, Drug Use Management

Hobbies: Working out, reading, card/board games, listening/watching podcasts, cooking

Research project: Change in LDL since the Implementation of a Pharmacist-Led Dyslipidemia Service

Why I chose Kaiser Permanente Georgia: I chose Kaiser Permanente Georgia because it offers a variety of learning experiences in ambulatory care and managed care which will allow me to be a well-rounded pharmacist in either field post-residency. Kaiser is committed to helping patients achieve their most optimal health by improving access to care and medications for all and so am I. My ultimate career goal is to work in a role where I can empower patients through medication education while influencing healthcare decisions that benefit patient populations on a larger scale.

Grace Zeineddine, PharmD, MPH, PGY1: Managed Care

Hometown: Marietta, GA

Pharmacy school: The University of Georgia

Clinical interests: Drug Use Management, Drug Information, Population Health

Hobbies: Running, pickleball, nature walks, dance

Research project: Exploring the Kaiser Georgia Smart Rx Update's impact on SMART Therapy Implementation in Asthma Patients

Why I chose Kaiser Permanente Georgia: I chose Kaiser Permanente Georgia because while wanting to explore different avenues of pharmacy, Kaiser offered a unique, non-traditional managed care program with diverse experiences like ambulatory care as well as project-focused areas like Drug Use Management, Drug Information, and Informatics. My love for the organization stems from growing up using Kaiser's healthcare and learning their values from a young age. After residency, I hope to find a career that allows me to use my pharmacy expertise to make system level changes to improve health by the populations.
